Good Road advocates may soon look for an extra session of the General Assembly to pass the bond issue bill. The session will be expensive to the tax payers whether the bill gets through or not, and we are opposed to this extra expense in order to give the same crowd another chance to do what they could have done last winter. Besides, so far as Appomattox is concerned no one on the commission appears to have any interest in us, for many years we have trying to get the commission to start here, but not a mile of road has been built, although thousands of dollars of this people have been exacted from them for roade, which are being built in other section of the State. We will not stand for more taxes.

Tobacco Growers Open the Markets

Special Telegram to Times-Virginian.

With 50,000 members and a large majority of the tobacco in the old belt, the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association went into action last Tuesday, October 3rd, on 35 markets of Virginia and Western North Carolina.

The system of marketing, which has won the admiration of the growers in South Carolina and Eastern North Carolina, is certain to meet with success in Virginia and the old belt of North Carolina, where the solid sign-up and loyalty of the Association members has resulted in the formation of 750 local units to further the interests of the Association.

The markets which opened this week in Virginia were Danville, South Boston, Critz, Rocky Mount, Martinsville, Chatham, Gretna, Virgilina, Clover, Clarksville, Chase City, Lawrenceville, Keysville, Rice, Burkeville, Kenbridge, South Hill, Alta Vista, Emporia, Alberta, McKinney, Petersburg Blackstone and Drakes Branch.

The biggest deliveries, the biggest sales and the biggest success of any single day in its history attended the opening of the Tobacco Growers Association at its 33 warehouses in the bright belt of Virginia and the Western Carolina's last Tuesday when two million pounds brought cash advances to thousand of growers and all deliveries from 34 grades on 24 markets were sold to leading manufacturers during the first day of cooperative marketing in Virginia for highly satisfactory prices.

Buckingham

On Friday night someone broke into the store house of G. W. Crews at Mt. Vinco and took $40 in money and a lot of merchandise. Mr. Crews telegraphed to Lynchburg and got blood hounds and when they were put on the track they ran to a negroes house about one-half mile away and stopped near the door but they wouldn't go in the house, the negro (Conway Bland) came out and the dogs would't notice him and the opinion here is that the thief or theives went to this man's house in order to throw suspicion on him in case dogs were used.

A cutting affray is said to have taken place over in Slate River district in which a man named maxey was cut with a knife and it is alleged that a man named Garrett did the cutting, but there are no phones in this section and the details could not be learned in time for this report.

The county school board meets here today and teachers from all parts of the county are to come here and sign their contracts today.

Much interest centers in the trial of Luke Brown the colored man who is charged with killing another negro near Winging Mr. John B. Boatwright and Mr. Easly are for the defense. It is said that two prominent families have interested themselves in this case one family being anxious to see the negro convicted and the other as anxious to see him freed and it is claimed that each side will spend money in the matter.

A trip through the farming section of Buckingham, Cumberland, Powhatan and Chesterfield counties found farm work going industriously on, great quantities of hay being harvested, the tobacco most all in barns and being fired, corn cut down and shocked and preparation for wheat and grass in progress.

Buckingham high school and others sent a big truck load of farm products for the fair and while the corn and pumpkins and other things were fine, I saw others at the fair grounds just as large but Mr. Gordon Elcan had a lot of exhibits sent by people who know how to compete for the prizes and I hope they may get blue ribbons in plenty.

Miss Elder from Mount Vinco who was a domestic in the home of Mr. Wm. Green was adjudged insane and sent to the Western State Hospital Sunday.

A large crowd is expected here on October 10th when Circuit Court opens.

Vera

Well, the tobacco is all harvested and ready for market and it seems to be of unusually good quality this year.
